Independent Auditor's Report

To the Directors of L'Arche Canada Foundation

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of L'Arche Canada Foundation (the "Foundation"), which comprise the statement of financial position as at March 31, 2015, and the statements of operations, changes in net assets and cash flows for the year then ended, and a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the Foundation's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Foundation's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our qualified audit opinion.

Independent Auditor's Report

Basis for Qualified Opinion

In common with many charitable organizations, the Foundation derives revenue from donations, the completeness of which is not susceptible to satisfactory audit verification. Accordingly, verification of these revenues was limited to the amounts recorded in the records of the Foundation. Therefore, we were not able to determine whether any adjustments might be necessary to revenues, excess of revenue over expenditures, and cash flows from operations for the years ended March 31, 2015 and 2014, current assets as at March 31, 2015 and 2014, and net assets as at April 1 and March 31 for both the 2015 and 2014 years. Our audit opinion on the financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2014 was modified accordingly because of this possible effects of this limitation in scope.

Qualified Opinion

In our opinion, except for the possible effects of the matter described in the Basis for Qualified Opinion paragraph, the financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of L'Arche Canada Foundation as at March 31, 2015, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations.

L'Arche Canada Foundation

Notes to Financial Statements

March 31, 2015

Financial liabilities measured at amortized cost include accounts payable.

Impairment

Financial assets measured at amortized cost are tested for impairment when there are indicators of impairment. The amount of the write-down is recognized in excess of revenue over expenditures. The previously recognized impairment loss may be reversed to the extent of the improvement, directly or by adjusting the allowance account, provided it is not greater than the amount that would have been reported at the date of reversal had the impairment not been recognized previously. The amount of the reversal is recognized in excess of revenue over expenditures.

Transaction Costs

The Foundation recognizes its transaction costs for financial instruments at fair value in excess of revenue over expenditures in the period incurred. However, financial instruments that will not be subsequently measured at fair value are adjusted by the transaction costs that are directly attributable to their origination, issuance or assumption.

Contributed Goods and Services Contributed goods and services are recorded when a fair value can be reasonably estimated and they would otherwise be purchased by the Foundation.

Volunteers make contributions of their time to the Foundation's programs. The value of this contributed time is not reflected in these financial statements.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of the financial statements in accordance with ASNPO requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Significant items subject to estimates and assumptions include, but are not limited to accrued liabilities. Actual results could differ from management's best estimates as additional information becomes available in the future.

Income Tax Status

The Foundation is registered as a charitable organization for income tax purposes and qualifies for tax exempt status under section 149(1)(f) of the Income Tax Act.

8. Financial Instruments

Credit Risk

Credit risk is the risk that one party to a financial instrument will cause a financial loss for the other party by failing to discharge an obligation. The Foundation is exposed to credit risk with respect to cash and investments from the potential default by counterparties that carry the company's cash and investments. The Foundation mitigates the credit risk by dealing with only large financial institutions with good credit ratings. The Foundation is also exposed to credit risk arising from its accounts receivable. The Foundation works to ensure that the receivables meet all eligibility criteria in order to qualify to receive the funding.

The Foundation has a concentration of credit risk with respect to accounts receivable from one donor. As at March 31, 2015, this donor accounted for 99% of all accounts receivable and the total amount owed to the Foundation was received in April 2015.

Liquidity Risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Foundation encounters difficulty in meeting its obligations associated with financial liabilities. Liquidity risk includes the risk that, as a result of operational liquidity requirements, the Foundation will not have sufficient funds to settle a transaction on the due date; will be forced to sell financial assets at a value, which is less than what they are worth; or may be unable to settle or recover a financial asset. Liquidity risk arises from accounts payable and accrued liabilities, and commitments.

The Foundation continues to focus on maintaining adequate liquidity to meet operating working capital requirements.

Market Risk

Market risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market prices.

L'Arche Canada Foundation Notes to Financial Statements

8. Financial Instruments (Continued)

Market risk comprises three types of risk: interest rate risk, other price risk and currency risk. Each of these risks is discussed hereunder.

Interest Rate Risk

The Foundation is exposed to financial risks that arise from fluctuations of interest rates and the degree of volatility of these rates. The Foundation is exposed to interest rate risk with respect to its investments.

Other Price Risk

This is the risk that the fair value of future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market prices (other than those arising from interest rate risk), whether those changes are caused by factors specific to the individual financial instrument or its issuer, or factors affecting all similar financial instruments traded in the market. The Foundation's exposure to price risk relates to changes in market prices in its equity securities and investment in bonds.

Currency Risk

Currency risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in foreign exchange rates. The Foundation owns investments denominated in various foreign currencies traded on foreign stock exchanges.

The market value of securities in foreign currencies at March 31, 2015 was $706,160 (2014 - $563,107).

There have been no changes to the Foundation's financial instruments risk exposure from prior years.
